J. HENRY PECOR.

After an illness covering a period of over six weeks, J. Henry Pecor passed away yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at his home in East Third street, aged 62 years, 4 months and two days.

The deceased was born in the house in which he died March 10th, 1845, and the succeeding years of his honorable, upright life have been spent in the place of his nativity, where his daily walk won for him the respect and esteem of the entire citizenship of the community.

Early in life he entered the mercantile business as an apprentice in the shoe house of S.
S. Miner, and in young manhood became an associate in the firm.

For the past twenty-six years he has conducted the boot and shoe trade in his present quarters in West Second street, where by strict integrity and straight-forward business principles he had built up a lucrative and well established trade. At the time of his death he was the oldest shoe merchant in the city, having been actively engaged for over forty years.

He was a Baptist by profession and a Christian, an Oddfellow, being a past officer in Ringgold Lodge No. 27, and Pisgah Encampment No. 9. He was also one of the Directors of the Maysville Cemetery Company.

He was a considerate and affectionate brother,
a kind neighbor and an excellent citizen.

He leaves two brothers and a sister—Miss Rachel, John C. and William B. Pecor, all of this city.

The funeral will take place from the residence in East Third street tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited.
Kindly omit flowers.

Interment in Maysville Cemetery.

No MATTER who demands free-trade or its substitute, Tariff "revision," there is no question that under present schedules the Nation is enjoying a period of the greatest prosperity in its history. Why not leave well enough alone? —Scranton Tribune.

THE industrial situation of the country has not undergone any change which might lead the American voters to ask an alteration in the economic policy of the Nation.

The U. S. A. is Now the Wealthiest Country in the World.

Our position is now that of the wealthiest country in the world, the total reaching $107,000,000,000, while the United Kingdom, which comes next, stands at $50,000,000,000.

We have increased between sevenfold and eightfold since 1860.

Up to the beginning of the present century the United Kingdom still exceeded us in the share which would fall to each person in the population if the whole were equally divided.

We now lead the world even in this respect.

England's accumulations are the work of seven centuries and more; ours are the work of little more than one.

THEIR LITTLE QUARREL

CAME a little early tonight, dear, because I have some tickets to the opera.

"Oh, George, how sweet of you! You are such a darling—always thinking of something for a pleasant surprise. But beware, for I am getting in the habit of expecting them and I may expect them when—when—"

"When we are married. You shall have them then. It is the dream of my life to make you always happy."

"Oh, George! But why do we go to the opera when you prefer the theater? Change the tickets. I don't care so—very much."

"Yes, you do. You like music better than anything in the world—"

"Oh, George!"

"Well, next to me. Of course I am happy in pleasing you, although I must admit that I was tempted to go to a good show."

"I have often heard you say that you didn't care for music and didn't understand it—so let us go to the theater."

"But I should be happier in pleasing you, sweetheart."

"That's selfish of you, when you know how perfectly miserable I am at the opera, thinking how unhappy you are—"

"But I can endure it for your sake."

"No, we will go to a tragedy, even though I weep most of the evening."

"Never. I want to learn to like noise—music, I mean. So don't argue."

"I am not arguing. I am telling you. I shall be happier in sacrificing my pleasure for your happiness—"

"Not by a—not at all. I decline to make you miserable that I may have an enjoyable evening."

"It seems to me that if you are not willing to grant me this little wish before—before we are married—that that you don't love me at all."

"There, don't cry. You know I worship you, dearest."

"But you won't try to please me."

"Well, anything within reason—"

"If you are going to call me unreasonable now I may expect worse names."

"Here's Your Ring."

—later. I see plainly that we cannot get along. Here's your ring. All is over between us."

"If you would only listen—"

"That's just like you men. You say hateful things and expect us to listen and be angels. You talk and argue and won't do a simple little thing to please us. It's much better to part now than—to have to get a divorce."

"Dearest, can't you see—"

"No, I can't."

"That I want to make you happy by taking you to the opera?"

"Well, it would make me miserable to be made happy that way. I should be happier even if I cried during a whole tragedy at the theater."

"And I'd be having a dandy time with your tears and no way to comfort you."

"You could do that when we got home."

"Darling!"

"So please, don't deny me the pleasure of giving you the happiness you crave to give me—"

"This is too complicated. Chuck it and come with me."

"To the theater?"

"No. To the opera."

"Do you still insist upon pulling in the opposite direction—and I do so want to inflict happiness on you by giving up my own pleasure—"

"My dearest girl, we'll go to the weepiest play we can find and, remember, afterward—Gee! It's too late to go anywhere!"

"How lovely! We won't either of us have to give in and we can just stay here and argue it out."

"Not much. We'll drop the question and talk flat-keeping."

"Oh, George!"

"Dearest!" —Chicago Daily News.

Piles Are Caused by Some Physics

Physics—usually salts, tablets and pills—cause piles more often than any other one cause. Such remedies produce griping, which is the direct cause of piles.

A proper physic will not cause griping, but will produce an easy and satisfying bowel action.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

instead of weakening the intestinal organs, as nearly all other physics do, gives them such strength that they are able to voluntarily perform their functions. In cases of constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, weak stomach, and all other bowel and stomach disorders, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gives immediate and permanent relief.

All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. Free sample bottle will be sent upon request to those who have never tried it.

Your money back if it don't benefit you.

having been erected in 1823.

Prof. James McGranahan, the well-known lyric writer, formerly connected with Moody and Sankey, the evangelists, is dead at his home in Kinsman, O., of diabetes, aged 67.

It was shown at their trial in the police court that the two Kentucky soldiers arrested for participation in the riot at the Jamestown Exposition had acted merely in the defensive and they were released with fines of only one dollar each.

The historic National banner of Stars and Stripes which inspired Francis Scott Key to compose "The Star-Spangled Banner," and which floated over Fort McHenry, Chesapeake Bay, during its bombardment by the British on the night of September 13th, 1814, has been placed on exhibition at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. The flag is the property of Eben Appleton, of New York, who has loaned it to the Government.

The Latonia Jockey Club will apply for a thirty days' extension of the present meeting.

It is a dull market day in New York city when 5,000,000 eggs and 500,000 pounds of butter are not received.

The races of the world are numbed at 72 making use of 4,003 different tongues. There are about 1,000 religions.

Sets of lantern slides are being issued to warships by the British admiralty, and are to be used by the officers in illustrating lectures to the men.

The McCracken County Dark Tobacco Growers' Association at Paducah this season so far has sold 5,000 hogheads of tobacco averaging $150 the hoghead. Prices ranged from $6 to $9 per 100 pounds on lugs, and from $8 to $15 per 100 pounds on leaf.

TREE CULTURE
Every County in Kentucky Should Have Trees Planted Along
Public Roads

Louisville Herald.

Kentucky should be replanted with trees.
Along each roadway, on the banks of streams, on bare hillsides, trees should be planted and cared for. Private effort will bring about no general widespread result. The reforestation of Kentucky must be accomplished as a Government work. The State and National Governments are both profoundly interested. A recent circular of the United States Forest Service states that every person in the United States uses over six times as much wood as the individual European.

At present one-fifth only of the total forest area of the United States is embraced in National forests, or, as we call them, "Forest Reserves." The remaining four-fifths have already passed or are most likely to pass into private hands. The average age of the trees felled for lumber this year is not less than 150 years. In other words, if he is to secure a second crop of trees of the same size, the lumberman or private forest owner must wait, say, at least one hundred years for the second crop to grow.
This is far too long a job for the American business man. But the states and the Nation, says the circular, can look much farther ahead. The larger then, the area of the National and State control over wood lands, the greater is the likelihood that the forests of the country will be kept permanently productive.

That is the work which our able Forest Service, headed by United States Forester Pinchot, is accomplishing.

A LASTING EFFECT.

This Evidence Should Prove Every Claim Made for Doan's Kidney Pills in Maysville.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer; but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it:

C. L. Hubbard, employed in Cablish's grocery, Cox Building, and living at 325 West Third street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"As I stated in a testimonial given in 1900, Doan's Kidney Pills brought me positive relief from inflammation of the bladder and a disturbed action of the kidneys. After some time I felt a slight return of the trouble but again used Doan's Kidney Pills and found complete relief. Now, after nearly five years I feel able to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills with even greater confidence than before. The results of its use in my case have been very satisfactory.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
